Customeyes is the ultimate luxury in tailor-made, designer eyewear. Based in Manhattan's Upper East Side, a consultation with Nader Zadi is made on an appointment-only basis. Zadi has an eminent reputation and talent for creating exclusive, vintage designs that flatter the individual face shape whilst accentuating attractive facial features. Through using antique metals, tools and processes, Zadi is able to create a fine pair of both glasses and sunglasses, which are wholly unique. His unrelenting passion for designing and producing such sophisticated eyewear is illustrated in the demand for his glasses, which have been described by some as works of art. "My energy and my soul is invested in each pair," Zadi says.
